

The Center for Integrative Psychology

At Alliant International University presents

Expressive Arts Open Mic

Please join us for an evening of sharing and showcasing local Performance Art. The art making experience has the ability to reawaken the wonder of embodied experience, and nourish the aesthetic response to our anesthetic culture.

After an introduction on contemporary theory of community art facilitation, the microphone and stage will be open to local talent performing music, poetry, storytelling, dance and other arts. If you wish to share your talent, please sign up when you RSVP with a description your 3-5 minute performance art piece. The second part of our evening will be open to sharing from inspiration.
